OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The work which Messrs Kelly have done so long and so successfully for London and for England and Wales, Messrs Wm. MacDonald & Co., Edinburgh have accomplished for Scotland, and for its two capitals. Upwards of 40,000 names have been added to this Edition. All possible justice is done even to the most distant parts of Scotland."—Times.

"Much credit is due to the compilers for their enterprise and industry in collecting this information."—Scotsman.

"The present issue, which has been carefully brought up to date, and includes 40,000 additional names, fully justifies the claim of the work to take a high place among publications of its kind. The information given is most comprehensive in its character and excellently arranged, and this, together with the fact that it is issued at a comparatively low price, should cause the book to be kept for reference by all having business relations with the Northern Kingdom."—Newcastle Daily Chronicle.

"A new Edition has been issued of this valuable and carefully compiled work. A bulky volume, each Edition being larger than its predecessor."—Leeds Mercury.

"Complete, accurate, and exhaustive."—Edinburgh Courant.

"No effort has been spared to make the information regarding Scotland as complete as possible."—Scottish News.

"The construction of the work is evidently the result of much laborious and accurate work."—Scottish Leader.

"The annual Edition has been issued, and will be welcomed by all who have business interests in Scotland."—Liverpool Daily Post.

"An indispensable guide to Scottish traders, and should find its place in their counting-houses; skilfully and clearly arranged, so as make the information wanted at once and easily accessible."—Greenock Telegraph.

"This work may be safely reckoned one of the best publications of its kind that has yet appeared."—The North British Agriculturist.

"It should certainly find a place in every commercial room in the country."—The Mail Train.

"As a book of reference the work is of great value. The Gazetteer gives a good deal of information, and supplies a want which all feel in connection with the postal, telegraphic, railway, or shipping interest."—Scottish Highlander.

"The Gazetteer Section gives the local and other desirable statistics of the Villages, Towns, Cities, and Parishes in Scotland, with the postal, telegraphic, railway, and shipping information."—Northern Advertiser.

"Grows in bulk as it grows in years. For accuracy of detail and completeness of information, we think the production second to none of a similar description. Altogether, the work will be found of immense value and usefulness to commercial men, advertisers, tourists, and others."—The European Mail.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

“To the tourist in Scotland MacDonald's Guides are as indispensable and, we may add, as well known as Baedeker's on the continent of Europe. The text is just what the text of such books should be—clear and concise in its directions, full of interesting details, and not too diffuse.”—Liverpool Mercury.

“Carefully written, profusely illustrated, and supplies every want of the modern tourist in fair Scotia.”—Morning Post.

“Are widely known and valued for the fulness and accuracy of the information they contain.”—Leeds Mercury.

“The usual information found in such works is concisely stated, well arranged, and made easy of reference.”—Scotsman.

“Profusely illustrated and fully indexed, deals with all places of interest in Scotland.”—North British Daily Mail.

“Seems well contrived to help the tourist to the utmost amount of enjoyment with the least waste of effort.”—Scottish Leader.

“No better guide to Scotland could be found than MacDonald's latest.”—Isle of Man Times.

“Fully entitled to take first place among publications of its kind.”—Hawick Advertiser.

“Admirably adapted to meet the requirements of the touring tribe.”—Oban Telegraph.

CAUTION.

WE provide our Representatives with OFFICIAL RECEIPTS bearing a fac-simile of our Signature as given here.

Wm Macdonald & Co

Each Receipt bears a distinct consecutive number, and has printed on it the title of the particular publication for which the money is paid, and the public are respectfully cautioned against paying money on our behalf to any one not producing such a Receipt, as we will recognise only our official Receipts.

This intimation is rendered necessary through many men, in no way connected with our firm (several of whom have been convicted), putting themselves forward as representing one or other of our publications, and thus receiving moneys for which false receipts were given.

We also find it necessary to caution the public against various books pretending to give useful information for Scotland, while we find the Northern Kingdom is represented as having (according to one of these) only 5 China Dealers, by a second 3 Milliners, a third 18 Ironmongers, a fourth 18 Druggists, a fifth gives no name for two Counties, a sixth represents Glasgow as having no Bakers, a seventh Edinburgh as having no Grocers, and an eighth Scotland as having no Drapers. These facts need no comment, and we leave them to speak for themselves.

PREFACE.

THE issuing of another annual and much enlarged Edition of the SCOTTISH DIRECTORY imposes upon us the pleasing duty of again tendering our sincere thanks to our numerous Subscribers and Friends for the steadily increased patronage now for so many years accorded to us, and which more than justify our expectation, that a practical, and carefully compiled, Trades Directory for the whole of Scotland, issued at a moderate price, would secure the appreciation of the public.

That, in a work so multifarious, there should be no error, would be too much to expect; but it is confidently hoped that mistakes are both few and unimportant, as neither care nor expense have been spared to have the information as recent and reliable as possible, and, by revision and copious enlargement, to render the work complete and accurate.

In obtaining the matter for the compilation of the present edition of the Directory, upwards of 5000 names have been added to its lists. Our agents visited every City, Town, and Parish in Scotland, to verify, by personal application, every name it contains; and all the principal towns in England and Ireland were also visited by agents employed exclusively on our publications. An idea may thus be formed of the labour and cost of collecting and arranging the information, and of the utility of the work as a reliable BOOK OF REFERENCE.

Subscribers will observe that the size of the Directory has been increased from royal 8vo to super royal 8vo, and that this Edition has been entirely reset with new type—a size smaller than the type used for former Editions—so as to prevent the ever-increasing volume from getting unwieldy. An outlay of several thousand pounds on special plant enables us to keep the type standing—thus lessening the cost of labour, reducing typographical errors to a minimum, and securing the general accuracy of the work—and to issue our Directory at less than half the price usually charged for similar publications. The price to British Subscribers remains 12s 6d as hitherto, or with Supplement giving lists of the Nobility, Gentry, and Principal Farmers, 17s 6d; Colonial and Foreign Subscribers are charged 5s extra to cover additional cost of carriage, etc.

In offering our best thanks to all those who favoured us, directly or through our representatives, with information, we wish to state that any suggestion likely to increase the usefulness of the work will have our respectful consideration.

It will be our earnest and constant endeavour in future editions, by accuracy of detail, completeness of information, and the introduction of new features, to merit the continued confidence of the public.

Wm Macdonald & Co

The Scottish Directory was accorded an Increased Patronage of 9377 in One Year.

 AND
GAZETTEER.

*Accuracy and Completeness
 with Cheapness.*

IT is the only general Directory of Scotland which is issued annually. It is kept standing in type—a result accomplished by an outlay of several Thousand Pounds on special plant—for the economical production of the work. The great saving thus effected in the cost of labour enables the Proprietors to issue the Directory at less than half the price usually charged for similar publications, while typographical errors are reduced to the minimum, and the accuracy of the Work increased, making it a reliable Book of Reference.

MACDONALD'S
Scottish Directory
 AND
GAZETTEER.

*Indispensable to every Library
 and Counting House.*

FROM the varied and useful nature of its contents, it is consulted by all classes. Besides its extensive sale among the general public, it is patronised by Government and Public Offices, principal Hotels, Clubs, and Exchanges; is used in Public Libraries and Reading Rooms; and will be found on board the principal Steamers trading between the United Kingdom and the Continent of Europe, India, the Colonies, the United States, and South America; and as the work is in use for a year, and in many cases for years, it is thus unequalled as an Advertising Medium.

No Money will be received for Books until Delivered.

In obtaining the matter for the compilation of this work, neither labour nor expense is spared to ensure accuracy, and to have the information as recent as it is possible to attain in so voluminous a work.

The DIRECTORY embraces over One Thousand Five Hundred Scottish Cities, Towns, and Villages, each of which is annually canvassed personally by Competent Agents solely engaged on our publications, thus securing a Local Circulation in all parts of Scotland; and as upwards of Six Hundred of the principal English and Irish Cities and Towns are annually canvassed by our Agents, and the proprietors having Colonial Agencies, the work, both on account of its merits and its moderate price, enjoys the widest circulation of any similar publication.

The GAZETTEER Section, 1892-93 Edition, will give the re-arrangement of County boundaries in connection with the recent Local Government Act, the 1891 Census Returns, and other Statistics brought up to date.

The many Laundries of every capacity we have during the last thirty years completely fitted up in all parts of the kingdom, have been uniformly and increasingly satisfactory in results, those of recent years more especially so.

Our system ensures the perfect cleansing, purity, and colour of all kinds of linen, and especially body linen, so essential to bodily health.

Laundries suitable for the requirements of small or large family houses, mansions, schools, hotels and public institutions, and fitted upon the most perfect sanitary and economical system for cleansing, drying, and finishing household linen, to work either by hand, gas, water, or steam power, and for which Plans, Specifications, and Estimates are furnished upon application.

Patents, Designs, Copyrights, and Trade Marks

Secured and officially worked in all countries on the most moderate terms compatible with thorough painstaking execution.

Pamphlets of Fees, and Regulations for Patenting in all countries forwarded Post Free.

The Inventor's attendance in Liverpool, Manchester, or London is not necessary, as all business can be done by correspondence. W. P. T. & Co. are, however, always glad to have personal interviews with their clients.

Inventors at a distance wishing to patent an invention, should send us an accurate description of it, with letter of inquiry. They will receive an answer by return of post, as to whether it is patentable and if so, what will be the exact cost of completely protecting it (including drawings, etc.). No charge made for such report; and all communications kept inviolably secret. Carriage of models, etc., must, however, be prepaid.

W. P. THOMPSON & CO. have at the present time the largest Provincial Patent Agency practice in the British Isles. Their Foreign connections also, and facilities for international work, both in securing Patents and in negotiating sales, are unsurpassed by those of any other firm.

(PATENT ABSORBENT GAUZE &amp; COTTON WOOL)

AND

ROBINSON AND SONS,

Cotton Spinners, Weavers, and Bleachers,

WHEAT BRIDGE MILLS, Chesterfield,

And 55 Fann Street, Aldersgate Street, LONDON, E.C.

Lints

These we make by our improved machinery. Perfectly pure, strongly absorbent, beautifully soft, tears well, and very cheap. Their use in the largest Hospitals of London, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, &c., is a sufficient guarantee of their quality. Our Flax Lint is the only ABSORBENT Flax Lint made that we know of. We invite special attention to our New Super Flax Lint, made from Line Yarn.

Bandages

We have recently put up new machinery for the making of Roll Bandages, and Surgeons who have not seen our new White Absorbent Roll Bandages should write us for a sample. As well as being all that is required for splints, &c.—being instantaneously absorbent—LOTIONS can be applied direct through the Bandages, and they are also the very best Bandages for use with starch or plaster-of-Paris, &c.

Absorbent
COTTON
WOOLS

Our trade is largely increasing with these goods; we make a first-class article for Surgeons' private practice, and a pure, cheap Absorbent Cotton for Hospital use. We are also Carders of both Grey and the ordinary grades of Non-Absorbent White Cottons.

"Gamgee Tissue"

Please read this.

This patented article, recently introduced, and of which we are the sole proprietors and manufacturers, is deservedly increasing in favour with the profession. We quote the following extract from a clinical address delivered by SAMPSON GAMGEE, Esq., F.R.S.E., Consulting Surgeon to the Queen's Hospital, Birmingham:—

"On purely surgical grounds, I have no hesitation in saying that the absorbent gauze and cotton tissue prepared at my suggestion by Messrs Robinson & Sons, of Chesterfield, is the most generally useful and comfortable, the most easily manageable, and most economical surgical dressing with which I am acquainted.

"The tissue as made in long lengths, is perfectly uniform in surface and thickness, and can be cut to any shape or size to pad the trunk or the limbs, in cases of disease or injury. Powerfully absorbent and elastic, the tissue is equally serviceable for drainage and compression, for dressing blisters and burns, wounds and ulcers, sprains and fractures. The tissue does not stick in wounds, and can be applied and taken off with facility and without pain. It does not lump together, but remains uniform, and is a most soothing and healing application to inflamed joints, and many skin affections.

"The tissue is susceptible of antiseptic medication, and it also takes up plaster-of-Paris, cream, liquid glass, collodion, or paraffin so readily as to make an excellent basis for splintage and moulds. A limb or the trunk may be very speedily and effectually immobilized by surrounding it with a layer of the dry tissue, and placing outside that a layer, or intersecting slips of the same material previously soaked in plaster-of-Paris, cream, or other solidifiable substance. With the tissue I invariably use the WHITE ABSORBENT BANDAGES made at the same mills."

N.B.—Certificate of Merit to Robinson & Sons, for Bandages, Cotton Wools, and Lints. Exhibited at the International Medical and Sanitary Exhibition, London 1881.

We place the highest value on this AWARD, as most of the Judges of Surgical Appliances at the late Exhibition have used our Lint, &c., for many years at the London Hospital. No higher recognition of Quality can be given.

ARTHUR FARQUHAR,

Lower Buxburn, NEAR ABERDEEN.

Metallic Packing is destined to become the packing of the future. Now that steam pressure in the Modern Engine is nearly doubled and the speed also greatly increased, I therefore recommend the above packing as specially suitable for the following reasons:—

1st.—By introducing the Ball-Joint Ring in front it will adapt itself to any Engine, however far out of line, or the Cylinder head from being square with the Piston Rod.

2nd.—The Segments being cored out, and filled in with any kind of White Metal which my Customers may specify, causes less friction and lasts double the time that Brass will.

3rd.—The Encasing Ring being designed to hold the Springs gives the Segments nearly double the amount of Wearing Surface.

4th.—It is specially designed for Engines when the Cylinders are worn, thus causing the Rod to rise and fall as it moves to and fro.

5th.—Provision being made for the Segments to follow the Rod, as it rises and falls, Friction is thereby reduced to a minimum.

TOMEY & SONS,

TAY GLASS WORKS, PERTH, N.B.

GAUGE GLASSES.

MERCHANTS, ENGINEERS, and SHIPPING AGENTS, &c., are cautioned against unprincipled parties selling or offering for sale GAUGE GLASSES, and representing them as the EUREKA GAUGE GLASS, as Messrs TOMEY & SONS are the only Makers of the EUREKA GAUGE GLASS in the World, which has given entire satisfaction to Engineers, &c.

Our Glasses have recently been tested by an inspector for the Indian State Railway up to 6800 lbs. pressure per square inch, and they do not change COLOUR.

TESTIMONIALS.

From Messrs EASTON & ANDERSON, Frith Iron Works, Frith, Kent:—"To Messrs TOMEY & SONS—The Gauge Glasses you sent us were  $\frac{3}{4}$  inch diameter, and about  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch bore, and stood from 2400 to 3900 lbs. per square inch bursting pressure. We want them stronger than this. If you think  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch outside diameter and  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch bore is likely to stand a higher pressure, please send us a dozen such Glasses—say 14 to 18 inches, as you prefer. E. & A."

From Messrs JOHN FOWLER & Co., Steam-Plough and Locomotive Works, Leeds:—"GENTLEMEN—We have always found the quality of your Gauge Glasses to be very good.—yours truly, JOHN FOWLER & CO."

From Messrs GOURLAY BROTHERS & Co., Engineers and Shipbuilders:—"GENTLEMEN—We have used your Gauge Glasses both for Marine and Land Boilers for a considerable number of years past, and they have always given us satisfaction.—yours truly, Pro GOURLAY BROTHERS & CO., JAMES MAXWELL."

From Messrs MERRYWEATHER & SONS, Steam Fire Engine Works:—"GENTLEMEN—We have used your Gauge Glasses for the last ten years, and have much pleasure in testifying as to their durability.—We are, Gentlemen, yours faithfully, MERRYWEATHER & SONS, London."

From Messrs BROWN & CO. (LIMITED), Atlas Steel and Iron Works:—"GENTLEMEN—We have now used your Eureka Gauge Glasses for over eight years, and they give us every satisfaction.—We are, Gentlemen, yours truly, Pro JOHN BROWN & CO. (LTD.), W. JACKSON, Engineer."

THE BUSINESS DIRECTORY OF IRELAND.

PRICE:—Subscribers, 12s. 6d.; Non-Subscribers, 21s.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

Freeman.

We have seen one of the early copies of this work, which we commend to the notice of the commercial community. We don't know of any want which has been so keenly felt for a long time as a directory of this kind. It speaks most creditably for itself as another valuable addition to our national enterprises. Hitherto septennial visits have been made to our shores by representatives of directories from across the Channel, who, in the most cursory manner, gleaned a few items of unimportant information regarding our manufacturing and trading community, which afterwards were produced in the most crude fashion. A careful examination of its pages will show a mass of useful intelligence, ably digested and arranged in the most convenient way for reference. The Directory has fully attained the object of its compilers in supplying a comprehensive and exhaustive record of the latest commercial information, indispensable to all firms carrying on business either in or with Ireland. Seldom has a work deserved its title better than that which we have now before us; it is, indeed, in the fullest sense a complete and perfect "Business Directory of Ireland," comprising within its pages compendious alphabetical and classified lists of all the principal manufacturers, merchants, shippers, and traders in all the chief cities, towns, and trade centres. Accuracy, which is the greatest essential of a directory, is here observed in the minutest detail, and the work reflects much credit on the care, industry, and patience employed by its compiler. It compares most favourably with the best of the English directories, and is to Ireland what "Kelly's" is to England. The superior manner in which it has been produced—and the very moderate price—is a guarantee of its future success. Altogether, we consider the new Irish undertaking one of the most useful publications which has come under our notice.

Morning Mail.

We have nothing but praise for the arrangement of the compilation, and the excellent taste with which the volume is brought out. We believe that such a work is one that must appeal strongly to the business public of the whole Kingdom or that part of it having commercial dealings with Ireland.

United Ireland.

The plan adopted is simple but exhaustive: there is no complicated arrangement. To mercantile firms the book will be invaluable, as the lists of principal merchants, manufacturers, and traders in all the Irish cities and towns are given in a handy and easily accessible shape. The work as a whole is highly creditable to Irish enterprise.

Irish Catholic.

The work seems to us to form an invaluable adjunct of the counting-house, the study, and the hotel. No business establishment should be without it. We trust the "Business Directory of Ireland" will have the large sale it deserves.

Liverpool Mercury.

This is an exceedingly useful compilation—a large volume, well printed and well arranged, and, as the publishers state, the only exclusively mercantile directory published for Ireland. It is arranged with the view of facilitating immediate and easy reference to the class of business or the name of the firm required. In English commercial circles, especially in Liverpool, where an extensive and continually-growing trade with Ireland is going on, the directory will be found most useful.

Weekly Freeman.

A most useful commercial guide, which supplies a great want in Irish business circles. Not alone to the Irish business man will the Directory thus be useful, but also to his brothers of the adjoining countries. To wholesale houses here and across the Channel a ready indicator of the locality of smaller traders in their particular lines is clearly and concisely afforded. Commercial travellers and others will also find in this Directory a most advantageous help for arranging and compiling their business tours. In a word, it forms a valde-mecum for every man doing business in or with Ireland, and reflects the highest possible credit on the compilers and the publishers. We welcome it as a very valuable adjunct to commercial literature, and feel confident that its success is assured by its merits.

Evening Telegraph.

A work of an exceptionally useful nature is "The Business Directory of Ireland." The publication represents a vast amount of labour on the part of the compilers, and the manner in which the information is presented adds much to its value. Moreover, an English and Scottish appendix contains long and carefully classified lists of the chief traders in Manchester, Liverpool, Leeds, Bristol, Birmingham, Glasgow, and Edinburgh, most of whom are, no doubt, doing business with this country. This directory is such a publication as business men have long needed in Ireland, and the value of this compilation, aiding as it does the intercommunication between home traders, is considerable. But, apart from the merit of its contents, "The Business Directory of Ireland" bespeaks success in every way.

Queen.

To men of business books of this class are always useful, and not to them alone. Tourists and visitors staying for a while in Ireland would be thankful for such aid as this volume supplies, and, therefore, hotels and other places of resort should have it at hand.

The Caterer.

To all those that are in any way associated with, or interested in, the industries of Ireland, this exhaustive business register ought to come as a "boon and blessing." The compiler has certainly done his work well, the classification being remarkable for its clearness. It will usefully re-inforce the reference books of the commercial room.

Irish Times.

We notice with pleasure the appearance of a bulky and handsome volume with the title of "The Business Directory of Ireland"—the first exclusively Irish Mercantile Directory compiled and published by Irishmen at home. Our interests in this direction have been hitherto looked after by Englishmen, but without affording to mercantile men in this country the full and complete information they desired, and which was necessary in order to enable them to pursue their business with advantage. This want has now been efficiently supplied, and in "The Business Directory of Ireland" merchants and traders will find all the special information for which they have hitherto looked in vain. The book contains the most exhaustive alphabetical and classified lists of the principal merchants, traders, and manufacturers to be found in the smallest or in the largest Irish business towns. Thus the book commences with "Abbeyfeale" and ends with "Youghall," comprising in all more than 200 cities, towns, and villages in Ireland, and in connection with the work there is an English and Scottish appendix, which will be found very valuable as a reference. The book cannot fail to prove of great interest, not alone to the merchants and traders of Ireland, but to those of Great Britain who have business relations with this country.

Money.

It is the only "exclusively mercantile" directory ever published for Ireland, and will therefore naturally fill a much-felt void. The work reflects great credit upon the compiler; neither time, labour, nor expense has been spared in its production.

Grocer.

"The Business Directory of Ireland" is a handsome and useful work. Every business house doing a country trade will find the volume almost indispensable. The work is sure to have a large sale.

Whiskey Trade Review.

The book has an American style about its printing, &c.—the excellent turn-out of such works in the United States of America having hitherto totally eclipsed the Britisher. We understand this is the first exclusively mercantile directory that has hitherto been attempted in Ireland. There was room for it, if not an absolute need for some one in Ireland to undertake the work. The step taken by the compilers and publishers is decidedly one in the right direction, and we sincerely hope their laborious efforts will be well rewarded. "The Business Directory of Ireland" is good value, and should be patronised.

British Trade Journal.

The classification of trades seems good. The volume is well printed and easy of reference. It should be in the office of every firm desiring to open up trade with Ireland.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

Freeman.

We have seen one of the early copies of this work, which we commend to the notice of the commercial community. We don't know of any want which has been so keenly felt for a long time as a directory of this kind. It speaks most creditably for itself as another valuable addition to our national enterprises. Hitherto septennial visits have been made to our shores by representatives of directories from across the Channel, who, in the most cursory manner, gleaned a few items of unimportant information regarding our manufacturing and trading community, which afterwards were produced in the most crude fashion. A careful examination of its pages will show a mass of useful intelligence, ably digested and arranged in the most convenient way for reference. The Directory has fully attained the object of its compilers in supplying a comprehensive and exhaustive record of the latest commercial information, indispensable to all firms carrying on business either in or with Ireland. Seldom has a work deserved its title better than that which we have now before us; it is, indeed, in the fullest sense a complete and perfect "Business Directory of Ireland," comprising within its pages compendious alphabetical and classified lists of all the principal manufacturers, merchants, shippers, and traders in all the chief cities, towns, and trade centres. Accuracy, which is the greatest essential of a directory, is here observed in the minutest detail, and the work reflects much credit on the care, industry, and patience employed by its compiler. It compares most favourably with the best of the English directories, and is to Ireland what "Kelly's" is to England. The superior manner in which it has been produced—and the very moderate price—is a guarantee of its future success. Altogether, we consider the new Irish undertaking one of the most useful publications which has come under our notice.

Morning Mail.

We have nothing but praise for the arrangement of the compilation, and the excellent taste with which the volume is brought out. We believe that such a work is one that must appeal strongly to the business public of the whole Kingdom or that part of it having commercial dealings with Ireland.

United Ireland.

The plan adopted is simple but exhaustive; there is no complicated arrangement. To mercantile firms the book will be invaluable, as the lists of principal merchants, manufacturers, and traders in all the Irish cities and towns are given in a handy and easily accessible shape. The work as a whole is highly creditable to Irish enterprise.

Irish Catholic.

The work seems to us to form an invaluable adjunct of the counting-house, the study, and the hotel. No business establishment should be without it. We trust the "Business Directory of Ireland" will have the large sale it deserves.

Liverpool Mercury.

This is an exceedingly useful compilation—a large volume, well printed and well arranged, and, as the publishers state, the only exclusively mercantile directory published for Ireland. It is arranged with the view of facilitating immediate and easy reference to the class of business or the name of the firm required. In English commercial circles, especially in Liverpool, where an extensive and continually-growing trade with Ireland is going on, the directory will be found most useful.

Weekly Freeman.

A most useful commercial guide, which supplies a great want in Irish business circles. Not alone to the Irish business man will the Directory thus be useful, but also to his brothers of the adjoining countries. To wholesale houses here and across the Channel a ready indicator of the locality of smaller traders in their particular lines is clearly and concisely afforded. Commercial travellers and others will also find in this Directory a most advantageous help for arranging and compiling their business tours. In a word, it forms a cuide-mecum for every man doing business in or with Ireland, and reflects the highest possible credit on the compilers and the publishers. We welcome it as a very valuable adjunct to commercial literature, and feel confident that its success is assured by its merits.

Evening Telegraph.

A work of an exceptionally useful nature is "The Business Directory of Ireland." The publication represents a vast amount of labour on the part of the compilers, and the manner in which the information is presented adds much to its value. Moreover, an English and Scottish appendix contains long and carefully classified lists of the chief traders in Manchester, Liverpool, Leeds, Bristol, Birmingham, Glasgow, and Edinburgh, most of whom are, no doubt, doing business with this country. This directory is such a publication as business men have long needed in Ireland, and the value of this compilation, aiding as it does the intercommunication between home traders, is considerable. But, apart from the merit of its contents, "The Business Directory of Ireland" bespeaks success in every way.

Queen.

To men of business books of this class are always useful, and not to them alone. Tourists and visitors staying for a while in Ireland would be thankful for such aid as this volume supplies, and, therefore, hotels and other places of resort should have it at hand.

The Caterer.

To all those that are in any way associated with, or interested in, the industries of Ireland, this exhaustive business register ought to come as a "boon and blessing." The compiler has certainly done his work well, the classification being remarkable for its clearness. It will usefully re-inforce the reference books of the commercial room.

Irish Times.

We notice with pleasure the appearance of a bulky and handsome volume with the title of "The Business Directory of Ireland"—the first exclusively Irish Mercantile Directory compiled and published by Irishmen at home. Our interests in this direction have been hitherto looked after by Englishmen, but without affording to mercantile men in this country the full and complete information they desired, and which was necessary in order to enable them to pursue their business with advantage. This want has now been efficiently supplied, and in "The Business Directory of Ireland" merchants and traders will find all the special information for which they have hitherto looked in vain. The book contains the most exhaustive alphabetical and classified lists of the principal merchants, traders, and manufacturers to be found in the smallest or in the largest Irish business towns. Thus the book commences with "Abbeyfeale" and ends with "Youghall," comprising in all more than 200 cities, towns, and villages in Ireland, and in connection with the work there is an English and Scottish appendix, which will be found very valuable as a reference. The book cannot fail to prove of great interest, not alone to the merchants and traders of Ireland, but to those of Great Britain who have business relations with this country.

Money.

It is the only "exclusively mercantile" directory ever published for Ireland, and will therefore naturally fill a much-felt void. The work reflects great credit upon the compiler; neither time, labour, nor expense has been spared in its production.

Grocer.

"The Business Directory of Ireland" is a handsome and useful work. Every business house doing a country trade will find the volume almost indispensable. The work is sure to have a large sale.

Whiskey Trade Review.

The book has an American style about its printing, &c.—the excellent turn-out of such works in the United States of America having hitherto totally eclipsed the Britisher. We understand this is the first exclusively mercantile directory that has hitherto been attempted in Ireland. There was room for it, if not an absolute need for some one in Ireland to undertake the work. The step taken by the compilers and publishers is decidedly one in the right direction, and we sincerely hope their laborious efforts will be well rewarded. "The Business Directory of Ireland" is good value, and should be patronised.

British Trade Journal.

The classification of trades seems good. The volume is well printed and easy of reference. It should be in the office of every firm desiring to open up trade with Ireland.
